when we feel
we feel so deeply
we crack and shatter into parts and pieces this is the vulnerability of our society of empathy

I camouflage 20% of my body with parts of yours my hand makes 1% of my body 20% is functional
1% has regard for 20% becomes
affected

8% of our body
regenerates
resting
next to your body
we move together
simulated technical creatures kin critters friends and family elastic bodies of many kinds a society of empathy
