

THE ALLEY

1

Think of all the places we could get thrown out of. Let's get shot out of the pipe. Let's get out and stop.

2

Here, come knock this over. I meant not to leave it standing. I've done everything. Do you ever feel like metal swinging?

3

Pretend you're an actor. Try to rip this fire escape from this wall, to get your preparation right.

4

As for my early education, I recall only the contractions, or contractions. I'm not looking forward to the drayage but oh dip I love the scavenge.

5

I've shot guns with arms hanging out the windows of cars. Twenty dollars. For this gantry I'll do anything.

6

You won't get shocked because it's dead. Remove this plastic sheathing. For sure, be up for anything. We run all of these lines.

7

It's starting to get light out. We'll just come back tomorrow. The light is everywhere, truly, into a knife cut light can fit.

8

Above this berm under the canopy. In the understorey stash it. I love these yellow trees! They all droop with fruit and blossoms.

9

Do you ever feel like metal swinging? It's breathing yellow, blue, and copper.
