

Gunnar
Tchida

my brain is still lazy and I write a poem with a wandering eye until it's too much and I have to go into the next room, grab a plump strawberry to put in my mouth as I step into the bathroom and take a hot little piss when you wear a phrase like a pair of panties still wet from being prematurely pulled from the dryer it's best to sit for a long time and think about what you've done
