

#30

Speckled orange Sudafed tablets ground over a cup of stewed carrots.
All the wedding cakes are moldy and people are fingering what remains of the beef.

Let them all in on a secret best kept in a locked drawer with bees for honey and info.
From the start: a mild pickle, and from what I gather, a toast with milk.

Polish the liver. Bring organs to a sheen; what the lion eats first is up to the lion. The nutrients in my body are now available for consumption.

